

The Hero Governor.

Colonel Geary stood in Mexico, and passed with a reputation for bravery through the early and trying times in California; but the terrible state of affairs in Kansas has proved too much for his nerves.

When his resignation was announced by telegraph, we suppose it was merely a ruse to bring the Administration to terms; but since reading his pronouncements, we are satisfied that his regard for his personal safety has overcome all other considerations.

He is an exceedingly vain man, and it must be a bitter humiliation to follow in the footsteps of Reeder and Shannon. This vanity is seen in almost every paragraph of his pompous farewell address. It is "what I, John W. Geary, have done," throughout.

The growth of Kansas, which it was not in the power of Governor Geary to check, but which his administration was well designed to retard, he modestly claims as the result of his Executive labors; and in order to get the greater credit, does not hesitate to misrepresent the present condition of Kansas, although he is compelled, in doing so, to contradict not only his own statements but to deny the existence of the very facts that, in another place, he alleges as the cause of his resignation.

Gov. Geary has sacrificed himself (or what there was of him to sacrifice) to secure the election of Mr. Buchanan. Selected by Mr. Buchanan with this object, he has deliberately misrepresented the condition of Kansas to secure the purpose of his appointment. This accomplished Mr. Buchanan has no further use for him.

Mirabeau B. Lamar, Ex-President of Texas, and Col. Samuel Black, of Pennsylvania, who was with Gov. Geary in Mexico, in the first Pennsylvania Regiment, are spoken of as his successors. It is supposed that Black will be the man.—Cin. Gazette.

The Misalliance of Miss Boker and the Conchman.

It is rumored that Mr. Boker, whose daughter married his coachman, Dean, attempted to send her to Europe on the Persia, this morning. Dean, learning this intention, last night applied to Capt. McGee, of the 16th ward, who could not be permitted to carry such a purpose into execution. He declared his determination to do so, in no mild terms, when the Captain called an adequate police force to his assistance, and watched the premises through the night.

It was reported that Mr. Boker had been trying to induce Dean to go to Europe and to consent to permanent separation from his wife, but without success. This Dean is quite a modest, bright, looking youth of some 20 years of age. He has a slight brogue, a decidedly red face, but there is no occasion for calling him either an adventurer or villain—his sole faults being birth, poverty and love.—New York Post, March 18th.

Gen. Cass and the Dred Scott Case.

The correspondent of the New York Evening Post says that Gen. Cass, who was invited to hear the reading of the decision in this case, and who occupied a prominent seat in the hall of the Court, was not much pleased with the result. He had listened with manifest impatience to Judge Taney's elaborate refutation of squatter sovereignty; but when the Chief Justice had uttered the declaration that the constitutional provision, empowering Congress to make all needful rules and regulations for the territories, applied only to territory in possession of government at the time the constitution was adopted, he seized his hat and walked out, in a manner indicating his dissent to every one who saw him. This was more than he could stand, and he did not care to hear the remainder of the decision.

Full Particulars of the Hamilton Catastrophe—Harrowing Details.

The Toronto Colostis has the following particulars of the awful accident:

Every person in the first passenger car, except Owen Doyle, James Barton, of Stratford, and two children between eight and nine years of age, perished. One of the children was thrown out of the window on the ice, it knows not how. The other was dragged out of a window, having been up to its neck in water for some fifteen minutes, in almost a senseless state. They were brother and sister. Their mother, father and uncle perished, and Owen Doyle, who saved himself, is their uncle. He saved himself by forcing his way out of a window as the water was rushing in. He remembers swimming on the ice, and then lost his consciousness. James Barton cannot tell how he got out of the window. He recoiled but a wild scream—being dashed against the ceiling of the car. Half senseless and half drowned, he made a last spring for a window. He was picked off of a cake of ice a few minutes afterwards, senseless. Doyle had his brother, sister-in-law, two cousins, and a cousin's wife, and two nieces, all killed or drowned. And with his own injuries, the fearful excitement of the scene he had passed through, and the loss of so many near and dear to him, the poor fellow wandered about almost bereft of his memory and his senses.

The escape of Richardson, Mr. Urquhart, of the express, the mail conductor, and the baggage master, was equally marvelous. When the locomotive and tender went into the abyss; literally, the baggage-car swung round apparently as it was going over, and broke loose from the tender. The consequence was, it struck on the ice to the left of where the locomotive disappeared; and slid, so strong was the ice, a short distance. It never overturned; and its three inmates, though thrown among trunks and all sorts of things, strange as they escaped with but trifling bruises.

A touching scene.

A woman, who was near the scene of the disaster, and who was first to witness it, gives some interesting particulars about the two children—the Doyles, who so miraculously escaped. She rushed down the hill to the cars, and the first object that met her attention was the poor little girl, about eight years of age, on a cake of ice. The little thing said: "Oh, don't mind me, save my brother," and the poor little fellow was at the top of one of the windows, imploring some one to drag him out. The woman, though the ice was broken for some distance round the car, managed to reach him.

RECOGNIZING THE DEAD.

The bodies were placed in a large store house and as friends and relatives came to seek for their dead, the scene is described as heart-rending. A wall screen, a deep sob or wail, told of some sad recognition. Around certain bodies groups collected. One of these is described as looking at the figure of a woman, once beautiful, and though her hair was tangled and wet, and her face is distorted from the effects of drowning, she still claims that idle crowd with a melancholy interest. She has a marriage ring on her finger. Two lockets are on her breast, and a brooch is suspended by a yellow ribbon around her neck. For whom did she wear them?

In the pocket of one would be found letters from his wife and children, wishing him home, and sorrowing for his absence. Another died with degenerate on his breast of those he loved. A mother's letter was found in this one's pocket, asking relief, and saying she was ill. The money for relief, was found side by side with the letter. Another's name was learned by the letters of those who loved him. And yet another was hurrying home to console the sick or the dying.

Tax Policy of Mexico.—A late number of the Mexican Extraordinary says:

It is unquestionably the true policy of Mexico to afford to foreigners, under Mexican laws and institutions, greater liberties and advantages than are enjoyed elsewhere. By the immediate adoption of this system, all fears might be at once removed of filibuster invasions. There are but very few people who wish to bear the stigma which must attach to them from a connection with any unlawful expedition. It is only the promise of great gain that can induce any one, except those already lost to a sense of right, to join an unlawful expedition. But when there is a chance of large gain, the most steady and calculating commercial men at once lay aside their conscientious scruples, and are induced to join their fortunes to such expeditions.

Rheumatism.

A Case of Three Months' Standing cured by BERHVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS.

GEORGE W. HENDERSON, of Pittsburgh, says:

"After suffering for three months with Rheumatism—a part of the time so severely as to confine me to my bed—I have been entirely cured by using BERHVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS. I never had one attack since, but found almost instantaneous relief in the same medicine. It is, in my opinion, a sure remedy for Rheumatism."

Cattle Market.

ALLEGHENY, March 23, 1857.

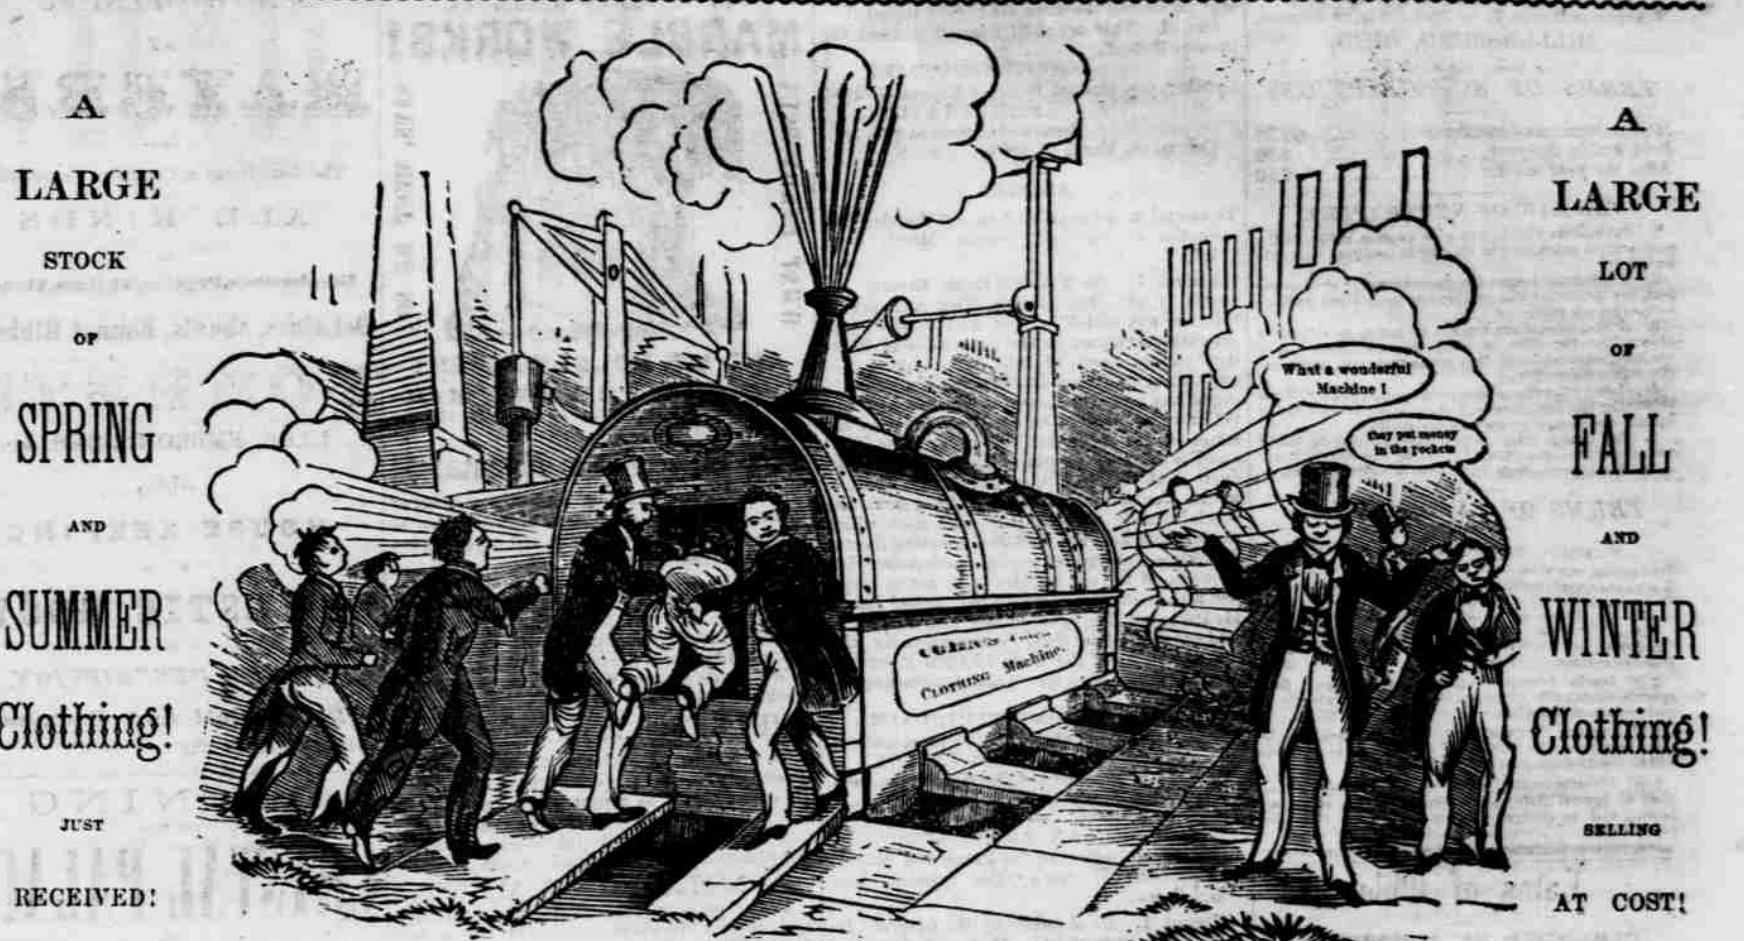

Prices yesterday ruled much in favor of sellers, notwithstanding the quality of the stock offered was poor all round. Had the quality been better, the prices would have ruled even higher.

Beef—The supply was short, only 150 being offered, all of which were taken at 54@55c gross for prime, and 43@45 for medium—higher figures than have prevailed for some time.

Sheep—Only 190 head offered, which were not prime; these sold at 4c gross; prime would bring 2c. The demand far exceeded the supply.

Hogs—scarce and demand quite brisk; a few sold at 6c gross; and choice would bring 7c.

Late and Important News for the People!

B. O'HARA'S CLOTHING MACHINE IS AGAIN IN MOTION!

THE ENGINE HAVING BEEN REVERSED
— IS NOW TURNING OUT —

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

THE STEAM IS UP, THE WHISTLE HAS BLOWN, and the crowd is rushing up by thousands, waiting for their turn at the Machine, to get well clothed! The people are aroused. The cry has gone forth that COHN IS CLOTHING THE COUNTY ON A CONTRACT! Now is your time to get rich! He has contracted with the State of Ohio to clothe all the Men and Boys in Holmes and adjacent counties, with new suits—new Coats, Pants, Vests, or anything else in his line, twenty-five per cent less than any other house in Ohio; and also give them better goods and better made than they can get elsewhere. Now don't neglect the chance, but come along everybody; he will do his best to please you all with goods and prices. No charge for showing goods.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS SELLING OFF AT COST!

I am anxious to sell my stock of Fall and Winter goods; those desiring to purchase such will make money by doing so now, as I am selling them off at cost! Those wanting to buy Over Coats, &c., will take the hint. Remember the place.

RARE CHANCE

THE SUMMER TERM OF THE FREDERICKSBURG HIGH SCHOOL
WILL COMMENCE ON FRIDAY, April 10th, in the new, light and commodious building, bought expressly for the School. The town is noted for health, and good boarding can be obtained on very reasonable terms; and rooms can be obtained suitable for clubbing, where students, male or female, would prefer this plan. Composition and elocution will receive special attention. Additions are being made to the philosophical and chemical apparatus, and these interesting sciences can be studied in connection with all the illustrating experiments. The proprietors are determined that the School shall not only sustain its present favorable reputation, but that no expense or effort will be spared to meet every rational expectation.
Teachers, Rev. S. McC. ANDERSON, Professor of Latin, Greek, Moral Science, Professor of Natural Science and Mathematics.
J. F. TILDEN will be as low as in any similar schools. They invite all young persons wishing to improve their minds, or preparing to teach, to give them a call—no additional inquiry may be made personally, or by letter to the teachers, Frederickburg Wayne Co., Ohio.

BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND BITTERS FOR DYSPEPSIA, DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS, LIVER COMPLAINT, WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND, FEVER AND AGUE.
And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER.
Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colic, Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Depression, Constipation, Bilious and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Venereal Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.
This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intrusted more especially to those of our fellow countrymen scattered here and there over the face of this mighty continent. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.
It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continued use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, heartening and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

YON'S KATHARTIC.

THE famous cathartic of YON'S KATHARTIC is a truly valuable medicine, and is entirely without precedent. Its sale is nearly 1,000,000 bottles per year, and the demand is constantly increasing. It restores the bowels when they are clogged; preserves and builds up the system; it is a beautiful tonic; restores health and keeps the body perfectly clean; while its delicate and pleasant taste makes it the pleasantest article ever used. It is everywhere sold by all respectable druggists, and is sold at the BOOK AND VARIETY STORE.
